County votes on redistricting map

Oshkosh Herald

Two tentative plan and map options for Winnebago County's 36 supervisory districts based on 2020 census numbers were being considered this week by the county Board of Supervisors.

The board held a redistricting public hearing last Tuesday to allow more input while explaining the work behind the map options with presentations by county planner Jerry Bougie and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) Department expert Diane Culver.

More information

Find redistricting details at www.co.winnebago.wi.us and click on Winnebago County Redistricting link.

The county's Judiciary and Public Safety Committee advanced options 1 and 3 from three redistricting map proposals originally offered for consideration by GIS that the full board is being asked to vote on at Tuesday's regular meeting. The second option did not advance in part for proposing to merge town and municipal areas in District 14 while dividing the Town of

Herd ready to resume winning ways

G League returns with dual format

Oshkosh Herald

The Wisconsin Herd returns to the Oshkosh Arena court Nov. 8 for the first time since the 2019-20 season with a new coaching staff and updated roster after missing last season amid the pandemic.

The Herd's last campaign as part of the now-reigning NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks led them to a G League-leading 33-10 record and a top playoff seeding before the season ended just as the tournament was to start. Under first-year head coach Chase Buford and league MVP Frank Mason III, the Herd was only the second team in league history to average 120 points and 50 rebounds in the same season.

Buford has since become head coach of the Sydney Kings of the National Basketball League in Australia while the Herd looks for his replacement to lead a team that will include the Bucks' top draft pick – power forward Sandro Mamukelashvili from Seton

The home game against the Cleveland Charge is the first of 14 the Herd will play as part of the G League Showcase Cup, a new schedule format that features a playoff and championship game ahead of the regular 36-game league schedule.

Overall, the Herd will play 50 games with 24 of them at Oshkosh Arena. The full

Refugee assistance ramps up

At least 100 Afghans expected in this area

By Kaitlyn Scoville
OSHKOSH HERALD

President Biden concluded the 20-year U.S. mission in Afghanistan last month, which transported thousands of refugees to Wisconsin and nationwide.

A growing number of Afghans are being based at Fort McCoy, a U.S. Army installation between Sparta and Tomah. Once they finish intake processes over the coming weeks they will begin integrating into communities, including Oshkosh.

World Relief Fox Valley is a main connection with Fort McCoy and has proposed that 100 refugees settle in this area between now and March 31 among an estimated 400 statewide.

According to the local organization's director, Tami McLaughlin, this time is critical due to the urgency of the situation.

"People had to get out of the country so quickly," McLaughlin said. "Most of the reason they're leaving is because of the fear of persecution, war, death or violence, all those fears from the Taliban – these are people who have a great risk staying in the country."

"There will be similar trauma and grief schedule is at wisconsinleague.nba.com.

The Showcase Cup features all 29 G League teams and G League Ignite that culminates with a G League Winter Showcase and championship game. Teams will be separated into four regional pods where they will play 12 games in home markets.

The top teams in each pod along with four with the next-best winning percentage will play for the Showcase Cup in a single-elimination tournament between Dec. 19-22. The winners and runners-up will compete for a trophy and a monetary prize pool.

All teams will then play a traditional 36-game regular season with the top six from each conference making the 2022 playoffs based on the regular season. All Herd home games will tip off at 7 p.m. except for Sunday matinees.

The School Days Matinee presented by BMO Harris Bank on Jan. 19 vs. Lakeland starts at 11:30 a.m.

Shop local early, often this holiday

The leaves are starting to turn color, the Downtown Oshkosh holiday parade float registration deadline is near, and holiday music can be heard playing already.

The first day of fall is today and many may feel the need to start their holiday shopping. In the spirit of keeping the Shop Local support going I’m going to ask us all to remember it’s a marathon and not a sprint. Hit pause. Slow the roll – any other kitschy phrase that comes to mind. And be thoughtful about your holiday shopping plans.

Yahoo! Finance reported last week that 28 percent of consumers polled had already begun their holiday shopping while 45 percent will begin by October. A positive in this poll was that 45 percent plan to avoid major online retailers this year to avoid supply chain issues.

And that should be good news for local businesses.

Our local business community is aware of the supply challenges they may face for the holiday shopping season, just as they have been for the past 18 months and counting. The businesses I’ve had a chance to speak with are feeling optimistic that together we can keep “Main Street America” alive and thriving.

Retailers ordered holiday products in March in anticipation of delays. For KitZ & Pfeil, holiday decor was ordered in March and it’s looking like delays will be minimal. According to Kyle Heinrich, Oshkosh store manager, Ace Hardware expects 90 percent of the orders to arrive by Thanksgiving and holiday lighting to be available by Halloween.

Lauri Wagner, owner of Reimer Jewelers and The Artful Gift, also ordered in March and realized immediate delays in overseas orders. However, USA-made products were readily available although even those are starting to be impacted. And lucky for us, they carry products by several local artists so that stock is easier

Oshkosh Media waits for cable TV fix

Oshkosh Media’s cable television channels continue to be off the air as the city’s public programming service waits for Spectrum to remedy an equipment failure that occurred in late August.

Spectrum officials have told Oshkosh Media staff that the outage could keep Gov TV and Life TV off their cable lineup for as long as six months without specifying why it would be a lengthy delay.

to obtain and keep on hand.

Barb Nelson, owner of Brinkley’s Boutique, shared that they rolled the dice a bit and over-ordered in anticipation of incomplete and delayed orders. The shop is filled with fall merchandise now and while ordering merchandise has been challenging for Nelson, she feels we are “in this together” and is working with her vendors on orders as they gear up for the holiday season.

For our local retailers, trying to anticipate what the coming holiday shopping season will bring is frustrating and difficult, to put it mildly. So here is the ask: You don’t need to delay your shopping. If you see something that someone will love, buy it now as there is no guarantee future orders will be in stock. The opposite is also true – if it’s not in stock right now be patient and wait for those orders to come in around Thanksgiving, and possibly after.

Show your support for our local businesses. After all, they’ve turned their way of doing business upside down and inside out to be there for us.

City improvements plan extended to 10 years

By Kaitlyn Scoville
OSHKOSH HERALD

The city's approved 2022-2026 capital improvement program (CIP) prioritizes projects aimed at improving functionality and quality of life for residents and visitors, much of it involving roadway repairs and parkland improvement.

The Common Council last week also unanimously approved the 2027-2031 CIP plan to help city staff with funding efforts.

Other CIP projects in the initial five-year plan include replacing police and fire department radios and ambulances, along with reparations and improvements to the Menominee Park beach house and other facilities around the city.

After tabling the vote to the most recent meeting to review the plan one last time amid citizen requests to push some projects sooner, a decision was made to not alter the proposed CIP because of the opportune time to deal with the city's debt.

Deputy Mayor Matt Mugerauer said the council gave direction to staff to take on the city's debt, and "we're at a point where it's advantageous to take on a bit more of it due to conditions that present itself."

In addition to approval of the five-year

CIPs, city staff recommended the group commit to spending more than $2 million of American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds for some of these projects.

With this, city staff asked the council to approve a CIP plan for 2027-2031 as well to "initiate the potential funding for these projects with the state of Wisconsin and other funding opportunities," according to city documents.

"In the future, the city will look at expanding the (CIP) to include projects from all departments for 10 years," documentation reads.

In other action:

- With a single "no" vote by Mugerauer, a reduction in first-time marijuana possession fines from $200 to $75 was approved.
- A new cell communication tower was approved at 0 Bradley St. for SBA Communications to expand user access near Wittman Regional Airport for large events such as AirVenture. It is slated to be completed before next summer's EAA event.
- The city and the Business Improvement District will undergo a pilot program to decorate utility boxes through a small part of downtown with photos of historically significant buildings.

Fire department responds to more calls for falls, fires

By Jack Tierney
OSHKOSH HERALD

The Oshkosh Fire Department responded to an increased number of structural fires and falls in 2020 while steering programs around emergency management and COVID-19, according to the department's 2020 annual report.

"At the beginning of the year there was a dip in our call volume," Fire Chief Mike Stanley said. "People were afraid to go to the doctor and hospital. Now we're about 5 and a half percent above our call volume from 2019. We have had a consistent increase in our call volume for several years. I forecast demands for our services will continue to go up, and the types of demands for our services will continue to evolve."

The department responded to 20 percent more calls for structural fires in 2020 compared with 2019, from 40 to 60. Stanley said it could be a statistical anomaly but said that individuals staying home more due to COVID-19 could have increased the number of structural fires.

Fall prevention was another area of emphasis in 2020 as a prevention program was created in partnership with several local agencies. The department responded to 1,583 fall calls in 2020. Oshkosh residents made up 81 percent of those, and individuals 60 and older made up 84 percent of the total calls. Stanley said Oshkosh's aging population is a reason to place increased emphasis in this area of public safety.

The Fire Department continued to struggle to meet an industry benchmark set at responding to emergency calls in six minutes or less, 90 percent of the time. Stanley said increased municipal growth and call volumes at particular stations challenge the department in this area.

The department created an Emergency Operations Center to focus on COVID-19. This center pooled resources from regional agencies in health care and emergency management to plan and respond holistically to the pandemic, Stanley said. The department continues to monitor emergency management around COVID-19, and specifically is focusing on working with hospitals as they reach capacity.

Stanley said he thinks the city has turned the corner on the worst of COVID-19 but said he expects the evolution of service demands to continue as people work from home and the population ages. He credited the department for resiliency in 2020.

"The most valuable resource that our department has is the caring, skilled, and dedicated men and women who make up the Oshkosh Fire Department. My heartfelt thanks go out to them for making a difference every day."

COVID-19 economic review details losses

A 17-month COVID-19 economic impact survey conducted by the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh's Center for Customized Research and Services (CCRS) showed an average income loss of more than $150,000 reported by 138 businesses that completed the full study.

Feedback was collected from 3,500 Wisconsin business leaders to help shape policies and strategies to assist in recovering from the pandemic.

New North President Barb LaMue said the research project, a partnership among UW Oshkosh, the state's nine regional development organizations and the Wisconsin Economic Development Corp., helped determine the types of resources that businesses required to navigate the pandemic.

"We are proud of the work we have done over the past year and a half and look forward to continuing our work analyzing the state's economy through a new project that will be launching over the next several months," said Jeff Sachse, CCRS director.

Responses to the August survey totaled 208, representing more than 8,600 Wisconsin employees.

"The firms reported $1.5 million in wage and productivity gains, suggesting that companies are increasing wages to be more competitive for employees," Sachse said.

The full study is at uwosh.edu/ccrs/covid-19-survey.

Photographs of the dog were taken and sent east, from which the statue was created. The statue was cut out of a solid block of marble 4 feet long by 22 inches square. It weighs, when complete, five hundred pounds and cost $250 (Note: The Spalding monument and dog is located in Block 11 in Riverside Cemetery, facing Algoma Boulevard. It has been the subject of speculation and urban legend for several generations).

Volunteers assemble beds earlier this month for the Sleep in Heavenly Peace project.

Bed-making project delivers comfort to kids

By Kaitlyn Scoville
OSHKOSH HERALD

A new organization in Oshkosh is helping make sure children have a safe and comfortable place to sleep by building one bed at a time.

National nonprofit Sleep in Heavenly Peace (SHP) opened its Oshkosh chapter just five months ago after its co-president Kathy Marsh was inspired by someone she knew with one in De Pere.

"You don't say no to an 80-year-old woman," Marsh said. "So I started looking into it. As soon as I did that, it was one of those instant hooks – I couldn't not do something about it."

The volunteer organization deals with "child bedlessness" by donating beds to families in need.

Marsh said Oshkosh Kids Foundation executive director Julie Dumke helped her apply for a chapter and get the ball rolling.

"She's the one who told me there's a need in the Oshkosh community," Marsh said. "It prompted me to look at it a little more seriously and actually take it on."

As it stands, the Oshkosh chapter has built nearly 30 beds and donated six to the first two families last week.

And Marsh said SHP would not be where it is if it wasn't for their early supporters and a national partnership with Lowe's.

More information on how to donate or volunteer is at shpbeds.org by clicking "Find My Chapter" to aid Oshkosh specifically.

Red’s Pizza to end its two-generation run on Oregon

Oshkosh Herald

Local pizza parlors were the place to be when Red’s Pizza opened in the early 1960s, especially on weekend nights after a dance, on a date or at bar time.

Second-generation owner Steve Lawler, who was working there at that time as a teenager in the family business, will close the restaurant at 1123 Oregon St. this month, citing an ongoing employee shortage along with looking ahead to retirement.

His father, Charles “Red” Lawler, was partners with John Neustifter, and later Lee Bradke, in a restaurant called the Pizza Parlor at 711 Oregon St. from 1957 until 1962. Neustifter later formed his own pizza business called West End.

Lawler’s partnership with Bradke ended and he moved into the building that formerly housed The Star Theater at 1128 Oregon. It was available for rent, so Lawler moved in and opened Red’s Pizza. With seven children at home, he and wife Dorothy were motivated business partners. Most of the staff from the Pizza Parlor followed them to the new location while Bradke continued the Pizza House until 1966.

Red’s business was mainly pizza but because of his food service background at the State Hospital and as a mess sergeant in the Wisconsin National Guard, he expanded his menu to include hamburgers, sandwiches, broasted chicken and French fries.

Red’s pizza business idea started a few years earlier while training at Fort McCoy.

“Dad was in charge of the mess section and one night the troops were hungry, so Red looked around the kitchen area and found some leftover flour, sauce, spices, meat and other ingredients he thought would make a great pizza,” Steve recalled in Randy Domer’s book “Yesterday in Oshkosh.” “So he put it all together and served it to the hungry masses at the company party that evening. The guys loved it. They were all telling him he should go into business selling pizza.”

In 1968, Red expanded by taking over the building vacated by Wirtz’s Fine Foods across the street where it currently stands.

“My first jobs included blanching our homemade French fries and working on the grill a little bit,” Red recalled. “I made my first pizza when I was 14. Steve Lurvey worked in the kitchen and was one of our delivery guys...he taught me.”

Red and Dorothy moved to Wautoma in 1972 and two years later opened a second Red’s that they ran for another five years while Steve took over in Oshkosh, eventually buying the parlor in 1979.

Lawler said he hopes to sell the business while continuing his catering service through the end of the year. The restaurant’s last day will be Sunday.

Oshkosh historian Randy Domer contributed to this story, including excerpts from his book “Yesterday in Oshkosh.”

Oshkosh Defense weathers challenge to USPS contract

Oshkosh Herald

A legal challenge to Oshkosh Defense winning a 10-year, $6 billion contract with the U.S. Postal Service in February to build a next-generation, energy-efficient mail truck was dropped last week.

Workhorse Group, the final company competing with the Oshkosh Corp. segment for the contract, filed a lawsuit in the U.S. Court of Federal Claims in June to protest the bid. Under new leadership, Workhorse dropped its suit one day before oral arguments were to begin regarding the USPS’s attempt to dismiss the case.

“The federal government has announced its intention to replace its fleet with electric vehicles, and we believe that the best way for us to work with any governmental agency is through cooperation, not through litigation,” said Workhorse chief executive Rich Dauch, who was hired at the end of July. “By withdrawing our protest, we can also better focus our time and resources on initiatives that we expect will be more productive for our company.”

A spokesperson for Oshkosh Defense told technology blog The Verge, “We are pleased to learn that Workhorse Group has withdrawn its bid protest. We are proud that the USPS selected our solution to fulfill the needs of the (Next Generation Delivery Vehicle) program. We look forward to working with our partners across the country to get these highly capable and efficient vehicles to the carriers who need them.”

Workhorse investors were disappointed with the bid going to Oshkosh as they believed Workhorse had an edge as the only all-electric offering, Barron’s reported. Workhorse shares have fallen more than 58 percent this year. Oshkosh stock rose 1.7 percent on the news.

Vietnam tribute wall to return

The Sons of the American Legion Squadron 70 Oshkosh is bringing the American Veterans Traveling Tribute (AVTT) Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall to Oshkosh next month inside Sunnyview Expo Center.

The Wall, a replica that is 80 percent the size of the black granite national memorial in Washington, D.C., will be open to the public starting at 3 p.m. Oct 7 continuously until noon Oct 10.

A formal escort of the memorial replica will begin at 6 p.m. Oct. 6 from the Town of Nekimi Fire Department to the Expo Center with arrival expected between 6:30 and 6:45 p.m. The route will be State 26 to the frontage road, past EAA to 20th Avenue, down to Oregon Avenue and through Oshkosh to County Y.

Legion Squadron volunteers have been bringing the AVTT memorial to Oshkosh for more than 20 years for veterans and families to connect with those they lost.

“It has very personal meaning to each of us,” said Mike Bennett, 6th District squadron commander, “and our mission is to help give those veterans and families of veterans an opportunity to heal, be welcomed home, grieve and connect with those they lost.”

Senior Expo returns to Convention Center

The fifth annual Time of Your Life Senior Expo is set for Oct. 5 at the Oshkosh Convention Center.

The event from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. is planned before the start of the Medicare Open Enrollment period for health insurers. Vendors and adults ages 55 or older can learn about the newest products and services as well as have educational workshops and free health screenings.

Platinum sponsor Elite Hearing Centers of America and will have Dr. Katie Walsh present “Connect, Discover & Engage” at 10 a.m. Walgreens will be administering flu shots and COVID vaccines.

Admission and parking is free. The expo is expected to include more than 70 exhibitors from retirement living communities, home health care agencies, insurance companies, legal assistance, recreation and fitness, government programs, health care facilities, and home improvement.

Refugees

adjustment (like other refugee intakes) but because this happened so quickly, some of that may be elevated.”

Since 2012, World Relief Fox Valley has helped more than 1,000 refugees from several countries get settled with the aid of strong relationships with organizations throughout the region.

The group’s efforts include an intense 90-day resettlement plan to get refugees in living arrangements and job opportunities.

“We know they are most likely ready and anxious to get settled and begin life as a new normal,” McLaughlin said. “We were told after the bombings at the Kabul airport, people would come in with only the shirts on their backs and we wanted to start providing those basic needs to help them land well and stabilize.”

World Relief also helps get children in schools and adults in classes to learn English if they need it through the Winnebago County Literacy Council. For some who need additional care and the more vulnerable, the Fox Valley group has programming to help walk alongside those families.

“Oshkosh is a very welcoming and supportive community,” McLaughlin said. “(Our partners) work with us to help refugees stabilize, allow them to grow and start giving back to the community like supporting businesses and being homeowners – all things that bring them full circle.”

The Ahmadiyya Muslim community also found respite in Oshkosh, and through their core values, civic duty is paramount.

“We work on unifying people under a common goal of self-reformation and working for your fellow human being,” said Khurram Ahmad, Ahmadiyya’s director of public affairs. “Looking out for your fellow human being is part of our faith. We’re always doing whatever can be done to help our neighbors, such as food drives, blood donations and more.”

In 1974, Pakistan opened up state-sanctioned persecution for people of Muslim faith. Then in 1984, ordinances were passed to make it criminal to even act Muslim, which created an exodus from the country. Oshkosh was one of the communities in which they resettled.

Ahmadiyya has been active in Oshkosh since 2000 and acquired their mosque in 2011. Wherever they can, they connect with local organizations on refugee integration efforts to offer their time.

“We’re working with World Relief to lend a helping hand regardless of who’s coming in,” Ahmad said. “We try to become an extension of them as much as we can, given that we are still a very small community here in Oshkosh.”

He said they provide “hand-holding” services such as taking them for appointments, getting them set up with a driver’s license and being translators at appointments. They will also sign up to volunteer with local organizations such as Feeding America and the Boys & Girls Club.

One thing that’s common among these organizations is that the refugees are all human, and the efforts are not just one-sided.

“Treat them as equals. There are people who might speak a different language or have different customs or cultures from us but they’re still equals in humanity,” McLaughlin said.

“We all have so much to learn from each other; there are things they bring to our community, things we can learn from them that enrich our lives just as we’ve welcomed them with open arms and open hearts, and know we have something to offer them as a new homeland. It’s mutually beneficial.”

Ahmad said these people are ready to make a living and keep their family secure, adding that community members don’t need to walk on eggshells or go out of their way to accommodate them.

“Be normal, just like you are to your neighbor,” he said.

A separate effort by Cherith International is underway to help Congolese refugees who recently arrived in the area with a collection drive for large and small towels that Our Saviors Lutheran Church and First Congregational Church are accepting here.

World Relief Fox Valley is hosting a Zoom meeting at 10 a.m. Friday to discuss the State Department’s Afghan Placement & Assistance program and an overall update.

Active Aging Week returns to the Oshkosh Community YMCA next week at both facilities.

Active Aging Week set at YMCA

The Oshkosh Community YMCA will host activities Monday through Friday to celebrate Active Aging Week 2021. Initiated in 2003 by the International Council on Active Aging, the campaign calls attention to and celebrates the positivity of aging.

Group and water-based exercise classes, brain activities, a free lunch, a presentation by Aurora Health Care and a community resource fair will be offered. There will also be pickleball for beginners and an outdoor group walk. All is free for anyone over age 55 at both the 20th Avenue YMCA and Downtown YMCA.

The resource fair will be from 9:30 until noon Sept. 29 at the 20th Avenue location with 20 organizations and businesses including the Oshkosh Fire Department, Home Care Assistance, Aurora Health Care and Advocap.

Preregistration is required for the lunch and presentation and select group exercise classes by going to the YMCA front desk or calling 920-236-3380.

Jackson left-turn ban could end

By Tom Ekvall
HERALD CONTRIBUTOR

The Traffic and Parking Advisory Board has recommended removing the left-turn restriction from Jackson Street to New York Avenue for traffic between 3 and 7 p.m. as a result of recent road reconfigurations.

Transportation director Jim Collins said at the board's meeting last week that the left-turn ban is no longer needed. The board also recommended changes for northbound traffic on Jackson Street at Nevada Street.

In other action, the board recommended approval of updated parking regulations on the restriped South Main Street that would add street parking.

The board also approved Dan Becker continuing as chairman and Jim Stapel continuing as vice chairman. Michael Beardsley was also introduced as an alternate board member.

Healthy Neighborhoods looks to grow mission

Greater Oshkosh Healthy Neighborhoods (GO-HNI) will welcome new executive director Tom Fojtik starting Nov. 1 while the organization's board of directors seeks to grow and expand operations within the community and its neighborhoods.

"We have great confidence that Tom will grow and advance our organization, expand the impact GO-HNI can have within our city, as well as grow our volunteer network and neighborhood associations", stated board chair Julie Kiefer.

The change in leadership comes as current director Pam Ruder announced her planned retirement in October.

Fojtik is a longtime resident of Oshkosh and former nonprofit executive and educational housing executive at University of Wisconsin Oshkosh.

Fojtik

"There are numerous opportunities for us to enhance and improve our city and strengthen our neighborhoods," Fojtik said. "I ask other like-minded Oshkosh residents to join us and embrace our mission to improve this wonderful community."

Fojtik has been serving as CEO and president of the Oshkosh Area Community Pantry since 2019. A native of Cudahy, he earned his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Chicago.

"My fondness for the community is genuine - my wife and I raised our children in Oshkosh and have enjoyed many wonderful experiences here," he said. "I truly understand and value the people that make this community a great place to live."

GO-HNI will be collaborating with Habitat for Humanity Oshkosh in the boundaries of the Midtown Neighborhood Association for its next Rock the Block improvement program.

Man arrested in stabbing incident

A 33-year-old Oshkosh man was taken into custody last week pending charges in connection to a stabbing Sept. 6 that injured and hospitalized a 34-year-old man in the 200 block of West 20th Avenue.

Tanner Kent was located and arrested by Oshkosh police, who said he had fled the scene and had outstanding warrants. The physical altercation among several individuals resulted in four others being taken into custody the next morning at a location on Washburn Street.

Another 33-year-old man was arrested and faces charges of attempted first-degree reckless homicide, bail jumping, possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, and possession of heroin. A 31-year-old woman was charged with misdemeanor bail jumping and disorderly conduct, and two men, ages 27 and 30, were taken into custody for probation violations.

Quarterback role comes natural for North's Lyon

By Tim Froberg
HERALD CONTRIBUTOR

Peyton Lyon wanted to be a quarterback since the day he learned how to grip a football.

Lyon's interest in the position should come as no surprise, considering he was named after a legendary NFL passer.

Lyon

Several years later, Lyon can't image playing anywhere else.

The senior quarterback is putting up big numbers for Oshkosh North and enjoying the demanding role of QB.

"It all starts with the linemen doing the dirty work, but I like being the guy that has to make the right read and get the ball into the hands of the playmakers," Lyon said. "To me, that's fun. I just try to relax out there and be myself."

Five games into the season, Lyon has already thrown for a career-high 1,279 yards and six touchdowns. He is averaging 255.8 passing yards per game and has an efficiency rating of 90.9.

A second-year starter, Lyon is building off a strong junior year in which he threw for 1,021 yards, nine touchdowns and compiled an efficiency rating of 92.6.

"We strive for a balanced offense, but we definitely throw the ball more than we had in the past," Lyon said. "I think I can play a lot more efficiently and help the team get a few more wins."

Lyon has been playing quarterback practically all his life, starting at the age of 4 when he began youth football in Ceres, Calif., near Modesto in the state's Central Valley.

"We dressed in full pads and had real uniforms – it was pretty cool," Lyon said. "I hated football at the time because the helmet made my head hurt. But my mom and dad loved the sport, so I stuck with it and stuck with playing quarterback."

Parents Stephanie and Michael were big fans of former Colts and Broncos' Pro Bowl quarterback Peyton Manning, and that's how Peyton got his first name.

"They always liked how humble he was and how he presented himself," Lyon said. "Neither of them were really Colts fans. My dad is a Saints fan and my mom is a Broncos fan. My mom was really happy when he went to Denver."

Lyon was selected as the Spartans' starting quarterback his sophomore year but missed most of the season after suffering a tear in his pancreas during North's opener.

Senior Spotlight

He opted to let the injury heal naturally rather than undergo surgery and have part of it removed, and hasn't had any major problems since.

"That was really unfortunate," Lyon said. "I was told I might not be able to play football again. But having the COVID year gave me extra time for it to heal and I think that really helped."

Before the injury, Lyon was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes, something he's learned to deal with.

"I'd be lying if I said it didn't present any challenges," Lyon said. "But I've learned how to get it under control. It took a little while to figure everything out – to figure my body out and understand what it feels like when I'm experiencing a lull. I knew that if I wanted to play football, I had to stay on top of it. You can't let it get out of control."

Lyon will attend college next fall and hopes to play football. He's a high-honors student at North, carrying a 3.66 grade-point average. In the meantime, he's focused on helping North turn around its season after a tough 1-4 start.

"I think this team can jell in the second half and get into the playoffs," Lyon said. "Once you get into the playoffs, anything can happen."

Oshkosh into four supervisory districts.

Some supervisors expressed their displeasure with the remapping of their district in at least one of the options. County Executive Jon Doemel acknowledged their concerns while noting the time restrictions placed on the process that prevented further changes.

Board chairman Shiloh Ramos and other supervisors praised the overall efforts by the Planning Department and GIS.

U.S. census numbers used to redraw the maps were received by the county Aug. 16, more than four months later than the usual April 1 release from previous population counts due to pandemic restrictions. A final map needs to be determined before Dec. 1 nomination papers begin to circulate for the spring elections.

GIS mapping generally seeks to draw contiguous districts of equal population within about 3 percent of each other while attempting to keep municipal, town and university campus boundaries whole while dealing with geographic and population limits.

North hangs tough but falls in offensive shootout

By Dustin Riese
HERALD CONTRIBUTOR

If there was such a thing as a moral victory in sports, the Oshkosh North football team would have two of them in the last three weeks.

Despite suffering their fourth consecutive defeat at the hands of Fond du Lac on Friday, it was the way the Spartans played that stood out as they went toe-to-toe with a talented Cardinals team for three quarters before Fondy pulled away for a 56-34 win.

“I am proud of our kids tonight despite what that scoreboard says,” North head coach Juston Wara said. “Even though our defense struggled, they never quit and fought until the end. We played very good football throughout the game during the first half. If we can put our offense and defense together at the same time, we are going to be a very good football team and that is what it comes down to.”

North wasted no time in this shootout as Peyton Lyon found Evan Chopp for a 70-yard score to make it 6-0 quick – but that lead didn’t last long. Fondy’s Ethan Wagner came down with a tipped interception to set the Cardinals offense up inside the five. Wagner took care of the rest, plunging in from two yards out to give the Cardinals a 7-6 lead.

North missed an opportunity on their next possession with Hunter Carlson looking for Chopp down field only to have his pass sail incomplete. That set up the Fond du Lac offense after a nice punt return as Brayden Elgenbrodt was the one moving the chains. Add in several carries by Connor Klapperich and the Cardinals had the Spartans defense guessing. Facing a 4th and 11 from the 22, the Cardinals elected to go for it and saw Klapperich find Reetz over the middle and he did the rest racing for the 22-yard score to extend the lead to 14-6.

The big plays continued for North as Lyon saw a streaking Drake Moxon over the middle and Moxon for a 65-yard score to make it 14-12. However, the Cardinals started to pull away right before the half – outscoring the Spartans 21-6 the rest of the half to take a 35-18 lead.

Chopp added a touchdown from 15 yards out after Lyon found Moxon for another 50 yard play. Moxon tore apart the Cardinal defense – catching eight balls for 196 yards. Chopp added 84 yards on two catches with 16 yards rushing.

Lyon had a nice day as well, completing 18 of 29 passes for 388 yards and three touchdowns. Hunter Carlson and Quintin Fisher combined for eight catches and 108 yards receiving.

“We have a lot of dynamic athletes, especially on the outside, that we need to get the ball too,” Wara said. “Carlson does a great job running the ball, but our offensive line did a great job in pass protection which helped get us in a nice rhythm.”

Looking to cut the halftime deficit, the Spartans were moving the ball into the red zone but North was left with a crucial decision and one that Wara didn’t hesitate to make as the offense was back on the field. Had the decision worked it would have been a genius call that could have closed the gap to three points or less. Instead, Lyon saw his intended pass for Moxon fall incomplete, putting an end to a great drive.

“We didn’t think twice about that play call, as we wanted to go for the touchdown,” Wara said. “When it comes to our program, I feel like when given the chance we are going to go for it whether it works or not. We are not going to be a layup to anyone anymore so we will look to put the right plays in place to lead us to success.”

Carlson would add a touchdown on the ground, but it wasn’t enough as the Spartans laid it all on the line only to come up short.

Knights stay dominant in Trailways victory

By Dustin Riese
HERALD CONTRIBUTOR

The Lourdes football team continued about its business Friday night and dominance in the Trailways Conference with a 31-12 win over Fall River/Rio to improve to 4-1 this season and 3-0 mark in the conference.

"I thought we did a great job playing a full four-quarter game tonight, especially defensively," head coach Kevin Wopat said. "I know (Fall River/Rio) was short-handed so that did hurt them a little bit, but I am proud of the effort the kids on the field showed tonight. Nothing has come easy this season for us, which is a lot different than the last few years, but we are getting better each week and that is what you want."

The Knights jumped on the Rebels immediately after a nine-yard punt from Fall River/Rio gave Lourdes a short field to work with. Dominic Kane, who returned from a two-game absence, scored from 32 yards out to make it 7-0 early.

As the rest of the first quarter winded down, Fall River continued to move the ball with its rushing attack but could never turn it into points. After giving the ball back to the Knights, Wade Lindahl connected with Thomas Derleth for the first down and then Marshall Koch broke free for a long gain as he dragged a trio of defenders inside the 15-yard line setting up another scoring chance that resulted in a 25-yard field goal from Adam Arnoldussen for a halftime score of 10-0.

Koch had a massive day on the ground, totaling 161 yards on just 11 carries. Arnoldussen led the receiving group with three catches for 79 yards.

The Rebels got the ball to open the second half and drove down the field to get on the scoreboard after Matt Miller ran it in from a yard out to make it 10-6.

Looking to catch the Knights off-guard, the Rebels tried an onside kick but the Knights recovered in Fall River territory. That set the table for Lindahl as he found Peyton Eiden for a 49-yard strike to stretch the lead to 17-6.

Lindahl finished the day 12-for-17 for 230 yards and three touchdowns.

After a defensive pass interference by the Knights that moved the ball near mid-field, the Rebels were faced with a fourth down where Miller was drilled from behind with an incompletion to follow. That seemed to be the turning point in the game as Koch and Bohn each ripped off big runs shortly after. Koch took care of things from there, cashing in from seven yards out to extend the Knights lead to 24-6 with 11 minutes remaining.

"Koch is our strongest kid on the field and has been our strongest worker in the weight room the last few years," Wopat said. "We have been waiting to get him going the last few weeks, but have struggled to get him in a rhythm. Sometimes we get too pass happy which we did tonight. Once we got the ground game going it really opened things up offensively for us and Koch's energy was a big reason why. It was fun to watch him tonight as he really needed a game like this."

The Rebels would fumble a few plays later, and on the next play Lindahl found Arnoldussen for 74 yards to the one-yard line. To reward him for his efforts, Lindahl found Arnoldussen the next play for another score and 31-6 lead.

"Not only did those turnovers help, but we took a big shot after the first one which led to a touchdown for us," Wopat said. "One of their weaknesses this season has been fumbles as they have put the ball on the ground a lot so far. We took advantage of the opportunities we had when they gave us those chances."

The Knights will host the Peshtigo Bulldogs Friday in a nonconference game.

Spartans find the goal at weekend tournament

By Dustin Riese
HERALD CONTRIBUTOR

For the Oshkosh North soccer team, wins have been hard to come by as they entered Saturday with a 2-4-2 record. That tends to happen when you're in the middle of a six-game stretch where you haven't scored a goal.

Despite the offense struggling to find the back of the net, North continued to battle with some of the best teams around the area and Saturday was a sigh of relief for the Spartans as they scored in a big way connecting for eight goals – leaving with a 1-0-1 record.

The Spartans shut out Ashwaubenon 8-0 in game one and then tied Menasha 0-0.

Sure, all eight goals came in one game, but when you go through a stretch like this team did it is nice to see the ball hit the back of the net.

“Our effort was great all day today and we had good results come from it,” North head coach Brian Casey said. “We came into today with a long stretch of games without scoring a goal, but we were in all of those games and just couldn’t find a way to finish in the end.”

The Spartans started strong, building a 3-0 lead against Ashwaubenon after the first half thanks to goals from Nick Lemmens, Makylar Larson and Masumbuko Kitungano. Lemmens finished with a hat-trick and Larson added his second goal in the second while Luke Sonnleitner and Sadiki Lazaro got in on the fun.

“It was great for us to not only get some

possessions in our opponents final third, but to finally finish on some of those balls,” he said. “Seeing the goals start to pile up took a lot of the stress away from some of the players who desperately needed a goal to get some confidence back. To come away with eight goals was nice to see.”

After unloading on the Jaguars defense, the Spartans found themselves deadlocked with the Blue Jays and came away with a scoreless draw in their second game of the day. North appeared to have picked up a late goal from Steven Tapia only to have it erased after a controversial offside call.

“We did a nice job controlling the ball against Menasha and did a great job getting the ball up the field,” Casey said. “We had plenty of chances in this game and we could smell a goal coming for us eventually. To finally break through at the end like we did only to have it taken away will be a very frustrating thing to swallow.”

Throughout the first half, neither team generated much on offense as they seemed to be playing not to lose instead of win. That was until the eighth minute when Menasha was able to get a look at goal from distance only to see Kyle Gillingham make the stop. That seemed to be the trend over the next few minutes as the Menasha offense was starting to get behind the Spartans defense for some good looks.

The second half was a different story as it was the Spartans controlling the tempo and keeping the ball mostly on the Menasha side of the field.

“As you look at that first half, we had such a hard time moving the ball and had no purpose to our offensive game,” he said. “We made some adjustments at that half that allowed us to stretch the field a little bit more and we allowed the ball to do the work and not us. When that happened, we opened up a ton of space which created more shots. We just couldn’t get one of those shots to find the net.”

Perhaps the defining moment of the second half came in the 55th minute when Tapia took a perfect pass inside the penalty area and blasted it with his right foot. Had his shot been a tad lower it would have given North the lead, but instead it cranked the crossbar and then bounced back toward the field of play.

The Great Skateboard Debate

Skateboards on sidewalks? YES!

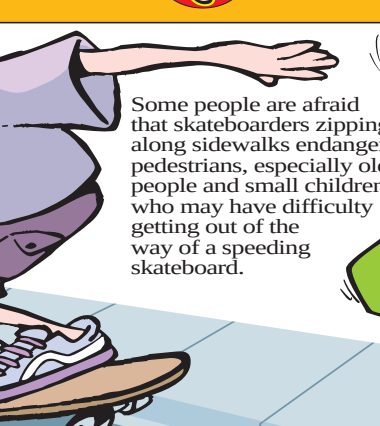

Streets are dangerous places to ride skateboards. Riders risk being hit by a car or falling in front of one.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission suggests that skateboarders should never ride in the street.

Skateboards on sidewalks? NO!

Some people are afraid that skateboarders zipping along sidewalks endanger pedestrians, especially older people and small children who may have difficulty getting out of the way of a speeding skateboard.

Concerns for the safety of skateboarders and pedestrians has led to the development of skate parks in many communities.

What's YOUR opinion?

Before you answer, ask, think and then decide.

Ask!

Ask friends and family members for their opinion. Write down their reasons for or against skateboarding on sidewalks on a sheet of paper.

Think!

List three reasons why some people say YES to skateboards on sidewalks and three reasons why some people say NO to skateboards on sidewalks.

YES	NO

Decide!

You've asked questions, you've thought about what each side has to say. Now it's time for YOU to decide. Write down your opinion here:
